

Name _____

Hello, Mr. Snowman

It snowed so much last night that there was no school today.

“Yippee! Let’s go outside and build a snowman,” squealed Jake.

He and his big brother Thomas put on their coats, boots, and mittens. They rolled and patted and shaped the snow. Finally, their snowman was finished and stood tall in the front yard. He seemed to smile and wave at all the people passing by.

1. Why was there no school today?

2. What did Jake want to do outside?

3. Who went outside with Jake?

4. How did the boys prepare to go out into the cold?

5. Where did they build their snowman?
