

WHAT IS THE AUTHOR'S PURPOSE?

Motita

When I was a child, I went to a pet store with my mother. In a small showcase, there was a snow-white bunny who looked at me with his pretty eyes.

He looked at me carefully and moved his nose very fast, wanting to get my smell. I was sure that the bunny wanted to meet me.

"Mom, look how cute that bunny looks, like a cotton ball, can you buy it for me? I've never had a bunny." I asked Mom.

"Will you take care of it?" Mom asked.

"Yes, Mom, I promise I will." I told her.

With instructions about how to take care of rabbits from the manager at the store, a huge bag of special food for rabbits, and a container for water, I left happy with my new pet. My new companion and friend for many years, my rabbit, Motita.
