

INFERENCES SERIES: TIME

The bride is beautiful in her white dress. The groom is waiting for her at the church altar to say yes. Guests wait expectantly for the bride to arrive in the horse-drawn carriage. They have rose petals ready to throw into the air when the bride and groom pass.

When does this happen?

11

© The Learning Patio - Dos Idiomas

INFERENCES SERIES: TIME

The long-awaited holidays are approaching. Tomorrow we won't have to go back to school until after the summer. All students return books and school supplies. The walls are empty, and the tables and chairs are stacked against the wall. We say goodbye to the teacher and wish each other a happy summer.

When does this happen?

12

© The Learning Patio - Dos Idiomas