INFERENCES SERIES: TIME

17. American flags adorn the streets. It's a holiday. We all get together to eat and have fun together. At dusk, facing the lake, we will see the fireworks. We celebrate the Independence Day of the United States. When does this happen?

- a. on December 24
- b. on July 4
- c. on December 31

18. It smells delicious. We are in line, ready to eat. We go one by one at the counter and choose the food that they offer us. Each one will take a glass of juice, milk, or water. Then we will sit at the tables and eat quietly with our friends. When does this happen?

- a. on Thanksgiving Day
- b. at Christmas dinner
- c. at lunch

19. The streets, houses, and shops are decorated in green. Some of the most common decorations are clovers, pixies, rainbows, and pots of gold. It is the day that the patron saint of Ireland is remembered. When does this happen?

- a. on Valentine's Day
- b. on St. Patrick's Day
- c. on April Fool's Day

20. Skeletons and monsters are everywhere. Pumpkins decorate the doors, gardens, and porches of houses. Scary music plays through the windows. Children and adults dress as witches and vampires going houses to get sweets. It is an unforgettable night, and it is only celebrated once a year. When does this happen?

- a. on the first day of spring
- b. on Halloween
- c. on the first day of school
