

Secuencia del abecedario

1.

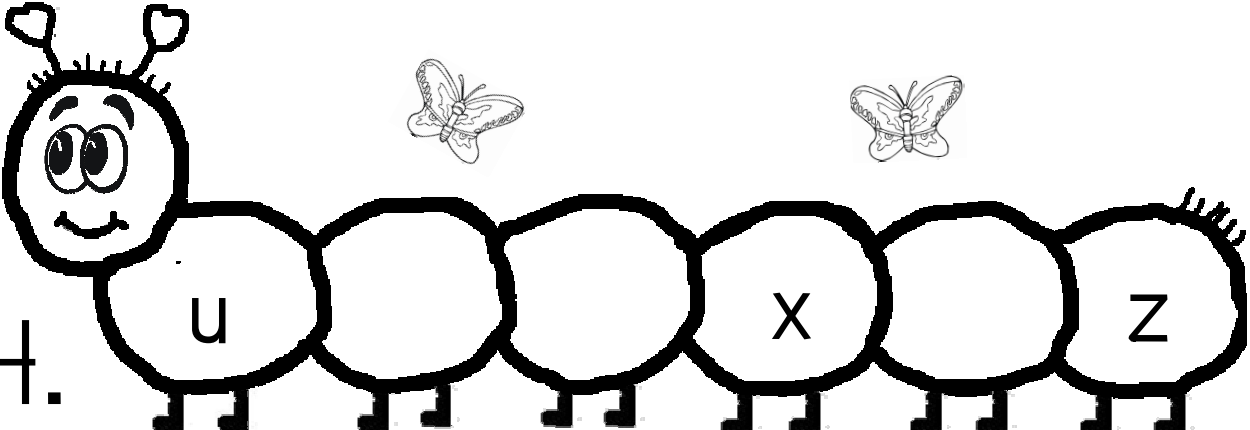

A caterpillar with a smiling face and antennae. Its body consists of six segments. The first segment contains the letter 'o', the second contains 'p', the third is blank, the fourth contains 'r', and the last two are blank. There are four butterflies flying above it and one to the left.

2.

A caterpillar with a smiling face and antennae. Its body consists of six segments. The first segment contains the letter 'a', the second contains 'b', the third is blank, the fourth contains 'ch', and the last two are blank. There are four butterflies flying above it.

3.

A caterpillar with a smiling face and antennae. Its body consists of six segments. The first segment contains the letter 'k', the second is blank, the third contains 'll', the fourth contains 'm', and the last two are blank. There are four butterflies flying around it.

4.

A caterpillar with a smiling face and antennae. Its body consists of six segments. The first segment contains the letter 'u', the second and third are blank, the fourth contains 'x', the fifth is blank, and the sixth contains 'z'. There are three butterflies flying around it.