Christopher got a great new digital camera for his birthday. It has tons of special features that let him snap pictures from close up or far away, in bright or dim light, and many other options. Now, he is taking beginner photography lessons at the community center.

The instructor is teaching his students how to use the many special effects available on their cameras. He is also showing them how to organize their photos on the computer and how to create unique projects, like photo albums, greeting cards, and wall art. Christopher had wanted a camera for a very long time, but he had no idea he would be able to do so many amazing things with it.

Yesterday, his photography class took a little field trip to the zoo with their cameras, where they snapped hundreds of photos of the animals. When they returned to the classroom, they shared their favorite pictures. Christopher thought it was a super fun day and believes photography is just about the best hobby a boy could have.
