

Inform

Entertain

Persuade

If you give me a choice between watching television or reading a book, I think I would choose the second option. My imagination is activated much more, and the enjoyment is greater.

Inform

Entertain

Persuade

Television is an electrical device that emits images and sounds. Its easy access allows millions of people in the world use it daily.

Inform

Entertain

Persuade

If I could be inside the television, I would do it without thinking twice. It would be incredible to be inside the TV living in what is happening on the screen.

Inform

Entertain

Persuade

If you were rich, I would invite you to donate part of your money to those most in need. After all, you don't need to live with so much money to cover your basic needs.

Inform

Entertain

Persuade

1% of the rich in the world accumulate 82% of global wealth.

Inform

Entertain

Persuade

I have so much money that I have decided to accumulate it in a room with a huge bathtub. Every once in a while, I climb in and let the coins fall down the sides.