

Mystery

Story that is considered to be a detective story. The story includes a mystery to be solved by a detective or hero of the story. Usually, the mystery involves a death or a crime to be solved. The mystery is gradually solved through the course of the story.

Folk Tales, Legends and Myths

Stories that have been passed down by storytellers. Folk Tales may include moral lessons to be learned. Myths are not true and often give fantastical explanations for historical events or for things found in nature. Legends are about people who may or may not be real. In a legend the events in their lives have been exaggerated.

Biography

A book that is written about another person's life. It contains more than the basic facts about the person and includes important events that impacted their life. Usually written in chronological order.

Autobiography

A book that is written about the author's own personal life. It contains more than the basic facts about the author and includes important events that impacted their life. Usually written in chronological order.