

Name _____

Date _____

Your

Homophones

You're

Homophones are words that sound the same, but have different spellings and different meanings.

Your: shows that something belongs to you. I found your toy under the table.

You're: a contraction of the words "you are". You're my best friend.

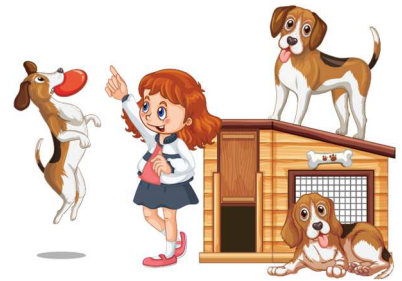

Choose the correct homophone and write it on the line.

(you're - your)

1. I am going to _____ house tomorrow. If _____ home, we can play outside.

2. My mom said that _____ going on a vacation. I will take care of _____ dogs while _____ gone.

3. My dress is new and beautiful. But _____ dress is an old used dress. However, _____ so pretty with any dress.

4. I see that _____ waiting for a big package to arrive. I am sure that _____ new bicycle will arrive today.

5. Anna, _____ invited to my party tomorrow. I hope you come. I will have _____ favorite cake and music.

