

Name _____

Lacy No Feet

One day Lacy went to the park with her father. At the park, there was a big pond where people like to fish. Lacy saw some children walking along the shore splashing their feet in the water. She wanted to do that too. She took off her shoes and stepped onto the shore. It was sandy. The sand felt warm and squishy between her toes. She wiggled her feet back and forth, and her feet sank a little deeper into the sand. Soon her feet disappeared.

“Look, Daddy, I have no feet,” Lacy said with a laugh.
